

It Happened Here

TOO Late to Classify: Reward will be paid to person who can choose the perfect name for a young thoroughbred colt. Name must be as perfect as the animal is, and must please both my wife and my friends. Will not accept such names as "King Wright," which belongs to Vera and Joe Schad, nor any of the Kentucky Derby losers. Will permit winner of contest to see the handsome animal FRED. Apply Joe Harris, at the Meadows Stables, anytime after 6 p.m. and before 7:30 a.m.

★ FOR RENT: Eight strong and healthy more or less quackless ducks. Able and willing to work. Will de-bug your garden with absolutely no harm to the favorite radish or potato plants. Guaranteed to please. Price 25¢ per day per duck. Transportation furnished. See Phillip Swayza.

WANTED: All of these War Brides to wait until June, which is their month. After all, according to the calendar, May belongs to us! The High School Seniors.

WILL TRADE: Some nice warm sunshine and a few clouds of dust for a gentle summer rain. . . . All of us.

TO EXCHANGE: Our softest fluttering of wings and our busiest whirring noises, and our deepest appreciation, for the person who will invent a substitute for sugar to be used in those glass feeders, to which we have been so accustomed to using. We know nothing of the war and rationing, and are unable to understand why the feeders are dry and empty. The Humming Birds.

Kerrville Mountain Sun
Kerrville, Texas

29 Apr 1943, Thu Page 9

"Sad end of the story of the men at Legions
hummingbird sanctuary."